

OSAT Schedules for Online Courses Fall 2019 – Summer 2021

Key Points for the Schedules Below:

- New courses will receive a pre-OSAT as part of the course launch process before a live offering.
- New courses and new instructors will always receive an OSAT after the first semester of a live offering; this will be in addition to what is listed below.
- When multiple sections of the same online practicum or project course are offered, an OSAT will only be done on one section (typically, the section belonging to the lead instructor for the course). The Director of Distance Learning will coordinate with the program director to determine which section should receive an OSAT. If there multiple sections of the same didactic course offered, an OSAT will be completed for each section.
- The schedules below are subject to change: if a given course is not offered in the stated semester, the schedule may be adjusted to capture a subsequent offering; if an OSAT is requested, the Koehler Center will do our best accommodate this request; if course numbers change, the Koehler Center will do our best ensure that OSATs completed reflect the course content indicated below.
- The goal of schedules below is to allow the Koehler Center staff the ability to work with instructors to parse OSAT feedback and collaborate on course updates.

Master of Liberal Arts:

The majority of online MLA courses are taught under the 60970 (special topics) course number. The MLA degree requires a set number of courses, but not a fixed course progression; courses taught vary each semester.

The OSAT schedule for this program will include: a) repeated courses approximately every two years as they are offered, and b) new online courses as they are added to the program offerings. If you have questions about OSAT scheduling for the MLA program, please contact the Director of Distance Learning.
